

Canadian Wildfire Renewal

Wildfire took away what I loved—innocent trees and wildlife I called home. I could not stop it.

Soon rain will fall, washing away the pain and beginning the healing.

“Hope is the anchor of the soul.”

I trust what's lost is held by something greater; like a phoenix, green will rise from the ashes.

Affirm 3× (taking a deep breath):

“I am held by forces beyond my control;
renewal flows through me and healing is already rising.”
